

GS/FACC 6850 – Financial Accountability Practicum

This course is designed to provide students with the opportunity to explore the relationship between theory and practice in financial accountability through an internship-type experience.

Our practicums involve:

- direct arrangements being made between the student and employer and facilitated by the Instructor, MFAc Internship Advisory Board, and Faculty Experiential Experience Program Coordinator in accordance with York University protocols,
- a minimum of 10 hours a week of employment for 22 consecutive weeks (part-time) or 30 hours a week for 10 consecutive weeks (full-time)
- students attending 10 three-hour classes where they participate together in discussing reports as they are prepared,
- five student presentations during their practicum,
- a written report by the student on a topic related to their practicum and MFAc courses which is agreed between the instructor, employer and student, and
- employer participation in the grading of the interim and final reports, with optional participation in either or both of the interim and final report presentations.

Eligible students:

- are enrolled in our unsubsidized graduate degree of four semesters and eleven courses,
- can take this course as their elective or as an additional course within their degree,
- must have completed FACC6000 and fulfill all eligibility requirements,
- usually have business degrees prior to admission to York and have been admitted into our graduate program, and
- are often international students with international work experience who are looking to work in Canada
